GIVE NEVADA CREDIT.

The Sonora Sierra Times speaks a good word for the battleborn state editorially in its issue of the 17th inst.

"All Nevada received for her efforts to back up California in the anti-Japanese matter seems to have been the universal condemnation of the newspapers of the middle west and the Atlantic coast, which have estranged themselves. Editors have pulled out their census showed her to possess comparatively few people as residents in her great area.

"If the census could be taken now, Nevada would doubtless be able to show at least twice as large a population as nine years ago, and the coming year will probably add more residents to what has been a shamefully neglected part of the United States.

No eastern man, limited in his travels, as most of them are, can discuss Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon, Washington, or even California, with intelligence. He does not know, and God has denied him the opportunity to see for himself on the brain to comprehend from a distance the greatness that he cannot see. The west is too big for the east to understand, and Nevada ought not to feel hurt at this most recent exhibition of eastern ignorance and narrowness.

"Nevada need not care, either, for with the Truckee-Carson reclamation project attaining to greater proportions every year, with the east and middle west slowly learning about the fertile soil of a state too often assumed to be nothing but desert, and with the continued development of mining properties and facilities for working their ores, it will be only perhaps another census before Nevada will have a population of which she can be justly proud. Her people are broad and intelligent now. A few years more and they will be great in numbers, too."

PATRONIZE HOME INSTITUTIONS.

A drummer for a Nevada printing house was in town yesterday and this office on two occasions was called on and successfully met his competition on two big jobs of printing without altering our fixed prices. The reason is this: We have no expensive solicitor, no expensive bookkeepers, no idle printers, we shovel our own snow and have been in the printing business for fifteen years.—Record-Courier.

There are business firms in Tonopah who send away for their printing supplies and the work is of an inferior article and the money is gone from home circulation forever. What if the printers sent away for their goods? Wouldn't there be a howl. But it is a poor rule that won't work both ways. The Bonanza book and job work cannot be excelled by any printing house in New York. This is saying something, but it is a fact.

The Goldfield Evening Chronicle ceased publication Saturday evening. The reason given is the owners cut prices to cost on job-work and advertisements and could not meet the payrolls and the poor printers had to have a meal ticket, but did not have the mazzuma which is necessary to procure the card board from the cafe proprietors. Goldfield can support one good daily paper at the present time, and that is all. It takes money to print a daily paper.

HEAVY SNOW IN SIERRAS

(By Associated Press.)

GRASS VALLEY, Feb. 22.—The worst snow storm of the winter is raging over this section today. Snow began to fall early this morning, driven by a terrific wind, resembling a blizzard for a time. The storm still continues, threatening to block traffic. In the mountains farther up the snow has been very heavy, and reports are coming in that the snow is piling up in all directions. In this city six inches already have fallen on a level, and in drifts it is much deeper.

TRAMP LESSEES IN PAY ORE OVER ALL THE DOMINION

Denver leasers on the Tramp Consolidated continue to take out good ore without an exception. Three sets have accumulated enough sacked stuff to make respectable shipments. They cut out the rich streaks and continue to ignore the big quantities of milling grade.

The Jingle lease leads with a continuance of the high-grade body reported last week. The situation here remains unchanged—several inches of uniform high values and a quantity milling material.

The Kullachi-Vucovich lease on the 400-foot level is sacking from a three-foot ledge, which carries stringers of $150 ore. A shipment will go forth from this ground in about two weeks.

George Phillips has an improvement to be noticed this week. The seams which he cut a short time ago have widened considerably, and he now has a substantial sacking face to work on.—Bullfrog Miner.

WANTED—Clean cotton rags, without buttons—Two cents per pound—Inquire Bonanza Office.

NO CLOSED SEASON FOR NEVADA KNOCKERS

The people of this county, particularly of this part of it, are getting over the old habit of knocking as was evidenced here recently in a very surprising and gratifying manner. But the mere abstention from the absolute "knock" or "back cap" is not enough. We must go further and get in the habit of "boosting" as it is practiced in other and prosperous communities, mining and industrial.

We have weeded out the saying of mean things about properties, now let us quit the evil habit of judging our neighbors, friends and especially our visitors. We must never allow ourselves to pronounce on any man's intentions or his ability to carry out such intentions nor, even his financial standing, without the most unquestionable proof to support our word. And even when we know of the impecuniosity of a promoter yet we should be chary of expressing our knowledge, unless some good is to come from it, some property to be protected, some friend to be spared a loss. For mines are often put in operation by men who are unable to sign a sizeable check, and yet the mine may become a paying and permanent enterprise.

In Nevada there is no closed season for knockers or even for pessimists and by the latter we mean those who are always decrying prosperity, always advising delay, always shouting or whining "wait awhile and see." This waiting business never bought anyone an automobile and never will. In Nevada there is an unwritten code of conduct. It is, "Hands off your neighbors' investor" and "boost your neighbors' proposition." Then, if you get a buyer every one interests himself to make your "angel" know that yours is just the property he wants, the one thing he needs. That is boosting and that is what we want here. With it our mines will astound the world as well as enrich it.

Let our motto be: "Boost first, last and all the time."

It's NOT Too Late TO SAVE $100 Every Month.

Though January has passed annual statements of foreign corporations can be published and filed in February (leaving a possible fine of $100 for January only.) Foreign corporations that fail to comply with the requirements of the statutes are subject to a fine of $100 for EACH MONTH in which they are delinquent. Those who have not published their statements are reminded that any District Attorney may claim the fine by instituting suit against the offending corporation. If the report is not advertised and filed during the month of February, the company becomes subject to a fine of another hundred dollars, and so on for every month in which it is delinquent. Here is the law on the subject, which will repay careful study:

Chapter CVIII.—An act requiring foreign corporations doing business in the state of Nevada to publish annual statements. Approved March 28, 1901.

Section 1. All foreign corporations doing business in the state of Nevada, shall, during the month of May this year, 1901, and in each succeeding year in the month of January, publish a statement of their last years' business in some daily newspaper in the state of Nevada for the period of one week.

Sec. 2. The secretary of the company publishing the statement shall file a copy with the several assessors of the state of Nevada.

Sec. 3. Any corporation coming within the provisions of this act who shall neglect or refuse to file a statement as required by section 1 of this act shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each month that the published statement remains unfilled with the several assessors of the state.

Sec. 4. Any district attorney in the state is competent to sue to recover this penalty, or the attorney general. The first county suing through its district attorney shall secure the penalty.

It will thus be seen that there is a stiff liability attaching to a failure to file these reports. The Bonanza furnishes forms to comply with the above law for advertising purposes and attends to filing same with the fourteen assessors of the state. Those interested are invited to correspond with this office at once.
